Somerset Was Crowded With Distinguished Guests.

The President and His Wife Received an Ovation From the Villagers. Dr. and Mrs. Baer's Heneymoon to Include a Trip West and a Tour Through Europe-Local Marriages.

SOMERSET, Pa., Sept. 13.—The harest moon added its silver radiance last night to the Baer-McKinley wedding, which, as was anticipated, was a very

Somerset made a holiday of the occasion. Early in the morning the country folk began entering the town and by noon a thousand visitors, filled the main streets or stood gazing curiously at the arriving guests. Governor Stone with his staff came on a late train and was given an ovation.

The wedding was a splendid offair. Before 8 o'clock the guests had arrived, and the spacious mansion was filled to overflowing. There were no less than 200 persons in attendance, among whom were many representatives of the Gov were many representatives of the Gov-ernment and diplomatic departments at Washington. At 8:30 the Rev. Dr. Par-ker Morgan, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Heavenly Rest of New York, entered the parlors, while an or-chestra, hidden behind a bank of ferns, began the wedding march from "Lohen-grin." Earl Ulrich, the famous boy sogrin." Earl Ulrich, the famous bay so-prano, of New York, sang the opera se-lection as the bridal party descended the stairway and entered the drawing room. The bridal procession was one of the pretty features of the wedding. First came the ribbon girls, followed by Mas-ter Wilbur Schell, who carried the wed-ding ring. The flower girls preceded Miss Jarvis, maid of honor, who was followed by the bride leaning on the arm of her father.

Dr. Baer met the bride-elect at the eltar, where Mr. Abner McKinley gave er away. The wedding ring was one of the valued treasures of the bride. Years ago an aunt of Miss McKinley, Miss Anna McKinley, of Canton, gave her a pretty gold band. The death of the aunt some years ago added to the tender memories surrounding it, and today it served as the link which bound the brice to the choice of signed to the bridal couple a place was reserved for the President and Mrs. McKinley. Mrs. McKinley had kept her gown a pretty secret, refusing to announce what she would wear. Her entrance just preceding that of the bridal party gave rise o expressions of pleased surprise. Mrs. McKinley's gown was a beautiful creation of white point lace thrown over pink

Suspended from the ceiling of the drawing room was a magnificent floral bell from the White House conservatory. The same bell was used at the marriage of Nellie Grant to Algernon Sartoris in 1872 and at the wedding of President Cleveland to Frances Felsom in 1894. Under this superb decoration the bridal party stood

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Johnston, 1845 R Street, was the setting for a prettily appointed wedding last night at 8 o'clock, the contracting pair being their daughter, Miss Pauline Ryder Ewer, and Mr. Edward Sumner Glavis, of the Department of State. The ceremony was erformed in the drawing room, which was gracefully adorned with palms and owers. The attendants were Miss Maidie Ewer, sister of the bride, who preceded her, wearing cream silk mull and carrying La France roses, and Mr. E. O. Asmussen, who served the groom as best man. The bride was daintily attired in white silk necesseline over white taffeta and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The ceremony was followed by a reception and later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Glavis left for a trip to the North.
